TIM'S WHIMS

Hi gang and welcome back to THE REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL. Powdered Toastman is really popular with you out there so here is the second all powdered toast special.

I'm gonna keep it short this special but I just want to thank you for all the letters and cards. I open and read every one myself and the more the better.

Wait what's this but another of the dreaded Tim Tuohy Public Service Announcements:

Please do not, I repeat DO NOT send any money to THE REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL. We do not have subscriptions available and can't accept money to send issues to you. I'm sorry but rules are rules. Well that's that for this go around.

And while I'm at it, don't forget the monthly Ren and Stimpy book in between the specials. It's a great book too!

Boy Annie, you sure have a lot on your mind. First off I hope you and your sister are reading this cause you got published, yay! Next, it's not nice to call someone stupid for coloring the bonus pages. Remember comics are made to be enjoyed and read not packed away in plastic bags. You never know Marvel's next greatest colorist might use those pages as samples. There are no plans that I know of for a powdered toast cereal but you never know. The cover was done that way to closely reproduce the classic cover to THE FANTASTIC FOUR #1.

Dear Ren Wranglers and Stimpy Stylists,

You would have to be a pack of "bleethering eediot's" if you didn't give more assignments to Joey Cavallieri and Stephanie Gladden! Their work on "Golf Brawl," the lead story in your "Four Swerks" special is the best I've seen in your entire series. The background gags were terrific, such as the sale bins full of divots and tacky pants on page three.

And the facial expressions are well drawn and hilarious. A rare combination in most comics! I especially enjoyed both sequences in which Ren is trying to concentrate on his tee shot. You can almost see him quivering neurotically as the sweat drops fly from his scrawny body. It looks exactly the way it would on the cartoon show!

If Joey and Stephanie can maintain this level of quality, I will be certain to buy every issue that contains their work. Well done guys!

Joey and Steph send their thanks. Stephanie hopes you enjoy her work this issue. She really enjoys Ren and Stimpy and it shows.

Dear Tim,

This is Chrissy again. I have a suggestion to make. I think that you should tell us what date that the next comic is going to hit the stands!

Dear REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL,

Did you know that THE REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL #4 cover looks the cover of SIMPSON'S #1. Just wanted you to know and do I get a prize for finding out?

Brian Gillette

Thorton, PA 19373

Brian, Brian, Brian. Did you know THE SIMPSON'S #1 looked like THE FANTASTIC FOUR #1 which was published in 1961? Imitation is truly the sincerest form of flattery.

Dear Ren and Stimpy crew,

I'm probably one of your biggest fans. Me and my sister thought it would be really cool if this got published.

By the way, I have every Ren and Stimpy comic book and every REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL. I loved your last issue! I liked the new appearances. The coloring pages were also really cool, but wouldn't someone stupid actually color them?

Just a suggestion, why don't you make a deal with General Mills, Kelloggs, or some other company to make Powdered Toast a real cereal? Will you or can you try?

Why aren't THE REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIALs numbered any more? Also why is everything on the right side? And on all of the comics the Comics Code Authority symbol is separate on the other side.

Dear REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL.

Hi from England! Over here me and my friends (Tom and Adrian, they wanted a mention!) are all Ren and Stimpy lovers, but we especially love Mr. Horse. We believe he is the best character to come out of any cartoon. Anything he says is pure comedy! He deserves his own special right now. And if I can write from England to ask you this then surely he deserves it!

What does Mr. Horse have to say about not having his own special? "No sir, I don't like it." All of you who want Mr. Horse to have a special or at least a story, write in. As of January 21, 1995 the voting is still light. The Yaksmen have 3 votes, Mr. Horse has 3 votes, and Billy the Beef Tallow Boy has 1 vote.

Dear Quarterly Quotes,

Oh joy! THE REN AND STIMPY SHOW SPECIAL #4, "Four Swerks," was great man! What I liked most was the art, all of it, cover and inside! Whoever drew it, tell them it was cool!

A few ideas: I would love to see Muddy Mudskipper or Cheese Fist get a special of their own. I would also like to see the Untamed World version of Ren and Stimpy, the fire dog version of Ren and Stimpy, or a special for Dr. Stupid. Well, keep going and going and going with the specials. See you in a little while man!

Well, Matt added his two cents about who he wants to see. Check out THE REN AND STIMPY HOLIDAY SPECIAL for a Muddy Mudskipper highlight.

Dear Tim,
Ren and Stimpy are the best.
I love the comic books and all the rest.
When I read one of their comics it comes to mind,

That Ren and Stimpy are the perfect match one can find.

Well good-bye for now I have to go,
But next weekend I will be watching the Ren and Stimpy Show!

I thank you for writing.

I thank you for reading.

I may not be the President.

I may not be the Pope.

But with you around, I will never mope.

Dear Ren and Stimpy,

You're the bestest. I love you. I'm your beegest fan ever you eediot! I have all your issues, every magazine article, all your toys, accessories, clothes, etc., even pictures of you on the backs of cereal boxes! And there is nobody een thees known universe who ees a bigger fan than me!

My favorite special is "Four Swerks." Was that Sammy Davis Jr.? It looked like him! Also Ren and Stimpy quarterlies are the best thing to happen to Ren and Stimpy comics! And I'm here to tell you that Ren and Stimpy should rule the world because they do in mine! Happy Happy Joy Joy!

No Cristina, that wasn't Sammy Davis Jr., but one of the costumed impersonators that Las Vegas is famous for.

Dear Quarterly Quotes,

I really couldn't help myself. I just had to do it and I'm sure I'm not the only person who did. With the exception of the front and back covers and the letters pages, I totaled all the different forms of the number "4."

The words "four, fourth, forty" appeared 32 times. The golf term "fore" appeared 6 times. The number "4" was found 51 times. The Roman numeral "IV" was written only once. There were a pair of "fours" on the dice in the hotel room. "Quarter, quarterly, and quartered" were written a total of 18 times. And as winnings go, the quarters were depicted roughly 1,777,819 times (this includes the bell-boy's tip). Then of course, "25 cents" appeared only twice.

This was quite fun. Keep the extracurricular activities coming — I love them! Now just between you and me. . . French Toastman was really Gambit in disguise, wasn't he? The "mon-am!" gave him away.
